

Alliance Technical Group Expands West Coast Presence with Acquisition of Horizon Air Measurement Services, Inc.

June 18, 2021

Alliance Technical Group, LLC (“Alliance”) completed its 12th add-on acquisition with the purchase of Horizon Air Measurement Services, Inc. (“Horizon”), located in Camarillo, CA. Horizon provides stack testing services to customers throughout California and the Western United States.

Acquiring Horizon adds to Alliance’s rapidly growing West Coast presence and increases resources necessary to continue the expansion of all Alliance service lines in the region.

Richard Vacherot, Technical Director of Horizon Air Measurement Services, Inc. said, “We’ve worked with Alliance to put our employees on the same team and are very excited to achieve this goal. The ability to offer the deeper bench and additional services that Alliance brings to the table will help us continue to service and grow our customer base.”

Together, Alliance and Horizon have a national footprint with coast-to-coast offices and more than 750 employees, providing a deep bench of technical expertise across a diverse range of end markets.

“Adding resources to our rapidly expanding West Coast operations was imperative, and Horizon delivers on both strategic and geographic fit,” noted Alliance CEO Chris LeMay. “As Alliance continues to expand, we look to partner with high quality, customer-focused companies across all of our services lines.”

Link to original press release:

<https://alliancetechgroup.com/alliance-technical-group-expands-west-coast-presence-with-acquisition-of-horizon-air-measurement-services-inc/>