

Confluence acquires Denver-based studioINSITE

January 19, 2021

Confluence heightens their capabilities with the acquisition of studioINSITE in Denver, Colorado. With studioINSITE comes a talented team with a 20-year legacy of creating meaningful design and memorable places. Beyond the ideal alignment of our services, our teams share a passion for authentic placemaking and a belief in the power of collaborative problem-solving.

The addition of an office in the Mile High City not only expands our reach, it raises the level of our collective capabilities and expertise, and allows us to better serve clients with on-the-ground resources and in-market insights.
