GDS ASSOCIATES ANNOUNCES ACQUISITION OF EES CONSULTING

February 1, 2020

Marietta, GA, (February 1, 2020) – GDS Associates, Inc. (GDS), an engineering and consulting firm in the electric utility industry, has announced their acquisition of EES Consulting, Inc. (EES), an engineering and consulting firm based in Kirkland, Washington who has been providing services to electric utilities on the West Coast for the past 30 years. Both companies provide engineering and consulting services predominately to public power electric utilities and this acquisition creates a combined nationwide presence.EES Consulting logo

"GDS has been fortunate to know Gary Saleba for many years and EES is a wonderful addition to the GDS family, as both companies have similar skill sets, cultures, and visions for serving public power utilities," stated GDS President David Brian. "With our combined expertise and service offerings, we look forward to creating a nationwide presence in the electric utility industry and expanding GDS services to existing and potential public power clients on the West Coast." Going forward, EES will operate as "EES Consulting, a GDS Associates Company" and current President Gary Saleba will continue to manage EES offices in Washington and Oregon. All existing EES employees are remaining in their current roles, with the additional benefit of offering clients extended capabilities, expertise and resources from GDS skilled professionals nationwide.

"I'm excited about the opportunity to merge EES with GDS which allows the EES personnel the ability to continue to do what they do best – provide high-quality services to our electric utility clients on the West Coast," stated EES President Gary Saleba. "Our existing clients will continue to receive the same excellent, personal service EES has been known for, with the added benefit of having access to additional service offerings and experience of the GDS team."
