

IMEG acquires Las Vegas MEP engineering firm MSA

April 28, 2021

IMEG Corp. has acquired MSA Engineering Consultants, a Las Vegas-based MEP engineering firm. The May 1 deal is IMEG's second acquisition of 2021.

Founded in 1978, MSA has offered mechanical, electrical, plumbing, and technology engineering services in Las Vegas, Reno, Phoenix, and the surrounding areas for over 40 years, providing skillful and thorough work on a wide variety of projects including the gaming, hospitality, and entertainment markets along with education, commercial, and more.

"We are extremely pleased to welcome MSA into our company; they are an exceptionally strong engineering firm in the Las Vegas area," said IMEG President/CEO Paul VanDuyne. "By blending our engineering capabilities, with David Melroy's leadership we are creating a strong synergy for growth in the entertainment, gaming, and hospitality market sectors within the region – including expanding design services with the recent acquisition of Las Vegas-based structural firm Mendenhall Smith."

MSA President and Principal David Melroy said his firm is thrilled to be part of IMEG and helping drive growth in the entertainment and gaming industry. "We are excited to move into this next chapter and expand our breadth of services and reach," he said. "This merger brings together decades of experience, enhances our passion for delivering quality work, and allows us to continue developing strong client relationships across the southwest region and beyond."

Melroy will continue as principal and Vice-president of Gaming & Entertainment with IMEG. The firm will continue to operate out of its existing Las Vegas, Reno, and Phoenix offices, doing business as MSA, now IMEG.
