

Potomac Testing Acquires Electrical Maintenance & Testing, Inc.

June 29, 2020

POTOMAC TESTING, a TechPro Power Group company, today announced the recent acquisition of Electrical Maintenance & Testing, Inc. ("EMT"), a NETA Accredited independent third party electrical testing firm based in Carmel, Indiana.

Commenting on the announcement, Mr. Brian Borst, EMT's President, said: "We are very pleased to join Potomac Testing and the TechPro Power Group family of companies. We will be able to continue our deep commitment to the highest standards of safety, quality and service to customers, while enabling our team to further grow professionally as part of an industry-leading organization."

Mr. Ken Bassett, President of Potomac Testing, said: "By addressing the many opportunities for union project work together with EMT's operational leadership and technical staff, we expect to be able to better serve and expand our combined customer base with stronger capabilities and greater experience. In addition, we look forward to sharing best practices and certain back office functions to the benefit of our combined teams."
