

Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc. Acquires Sullivan Engineering

August 4, 2021

Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc. (“Rimkus”), a worldwide provider of forensic engineering and technical consulting services, today announced the acquisition of Sullivan Engineering (“Sullivan”), an industry leading building envelope consulting firm. In line with the company’s overall growth strategy, the acquisition continues to scale Rimkus’ existing Building Sciences capabilities.

“Throughout this year, we’ve placed a large emphasis on growing our existing Building Sciences practice with the goal to provide more robust service offerings to clients. Sullivan’s leading expertise in building envelope consulting makes them a highly sought-after company. We see in them the same level of commitment to client service that Rimkus strives for, making Sullivan a great partner moving forward,” said Curtis Brown, Chairman and Executive Director, Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc.

“A major drawing point to Sullivan was their ability to maintain a successful balance of incorporating new proven technologies with tried-and-true practices. At Rimkus, we want to stay on top of new industry trends while providing top level client service, making this an ideal acquisition. Together, we will continue delivering results to clients that far exceed expectations,” said Robert Kocher, President and Chief Executive Officer, Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc.

“The Sullivan team has worked hard to establish ourselves as a leader in the building envelope consulting industry in the Northeast, and by joining a global firm such as Rimkus, we’re now able to expand our name and offerings to new heights. We’re excited for this next step in our company’s growth and look forward to what we can achieve together,” said Brian Sullivan, CEO, Sullivan Engineering.
