

RVE acquires Sud Associates, P.A.

February 03, 2022

RVE is pleased to announce its acquisition of Sud Associates, P.A. (Sud), a highly regarded consulting engineering firm based in Durham, NC and Asheville, NC. Sud will operate as an affiliate of RVE. With the acquisition complete, RVE now has offices in the Durham and Asheville metropolitan areas to better serve clients throughout the South Atlantic.

“Sud is a significant addition to the RVE family and brings a team of professionals with experience in a wide range of new construction and renovation projects with a focus on sustainable design,” said RVE President and CEO Leonard A. Faiola. “The firm has a strong reputation throughout the State of North Carolina and has successfully completed projects for prominent community facilities, such as the Duke Energy Center for the Performing Arts, and higher education institutions like University of North Carolina at Asheville, Western Carolina University, Elon University and Guilford Technical Community College.”

Founded in 1979, Sud is a consulting engineering firm that provides engineering design, study and research services for an array of projects including multi-use facilities, local governments, school systems, state facilities, national and local parks and industrial facilities. Their staff includes Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED)-accredited professionals with expertise in mechanical, electrical, plumbing and fire protection (MEPF) engineering disciplines.

“Since our founding, Sud has been committed to delivering high quality engineering services in partnership with our clients, and RVE shares this commitment to quality and delivering projects on time and within budget,” said Regional Manager Ish Sud. “We are proud to offer additional resources and opportunities to our clients through this strategic partnership. This exciting next chapter ensures that we can meet the challenges of tomorrow without sacrificing the personalized service that is our cornerstone.”
