

Towill, Inc. Acquires Cunha Engineering, Inc.

May 14, 2020

Towill is pleased to announce the acquisition of Cunha Engineering of Pinole, California. The acquisition will augment and diversify Towill's best-in-class land surveying services in the SF Bay Area and throughout the state of California. Operating from seven offices strategically located throughout California and one office in Colorado Springs, Towill is well-positioned to serve the Western United States.

"While the closing of this transition comes during unusual times, it's been a long-term goal of both firms and a well-planned acquisition," says Towill President Ken Meme, CP, RPP. "We see this investment as an excellent way to increase our presence in critical market sectors while strengthening our team. Both businesses have enjoyed robust performance in spite of the global pandemic and we look forward to even better results when the crisis abates."

Vince Cunha, PE, PLS, QSP/QSD, President of Cunha stated, "The successful relationship between our firms has developed over many years of working together. I have known Towill throughout my 42-year career and am very enthusiastic for the opportunities this brings."

Link to original press release:

<https://www.towill.com/>