

TechPro Power Group acquires Sentinel Power Services

February 28, 2022

TECHPRO POWER GROUP INC., the parent company of Potomac Testing and Technical Diagnostic Services LLC (“TDS”), today announced the acquisition of Sentinel Power Services, Inc., including its subsidiaries Pencore Engineering & Consultants, LLC and Sentinel Field Services, LLC, a NETA accredited independent third-party electrical equipment testing, commissioning, and troubleshooting services provider.

Commenting on the announcement, Leah Clark, Executive Vice President of Sentinel Power Services, said: “TechPro Power Group is a strong partner that can help ensure Sentinel continues to grow, thrive and succeed in our industry for the long-term. We look forward to the many expanded opportunities our combined resources, experience and strength will bring for the benefit of our customers and employees.”

Mr. Michael Kilpatrick, Chief Executive Officer of TechPro Power Group Inc., said: “Together with the Sentinel team, we wish to thank Greg Ellis, CEO of Sentinel Power Services, for his leadership and vision in helping to build a great company as well as his many decades of contribution to our industry. Sentinel’s mission and core values are closely aligned with ours and we both pride ourselves on attracting, training, and developing the best engineers and technicians in the business. We wish Greg the best in his retirement and welcome Sentinel into our family of companies.”

Sentinel Power Services, Inc. will continue to operate under the existing leadership of Leah Clark and her management team. Its company headquarters will remain in Tulsa, OK.
