

Y2 CONSULTANTS ACQUIRES CHEYENNE-BASED WESTERN RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT, LTD.

July 10, 2020

Y2 Consultants, LLC, recently acquired Cheyenne-based consulting firm Western Research and Development, Ltd. The acquisition supports Y2's continued expansion across the state and enhances the company's ability to serve its clients with expanded capabilities.

The two companies have long-standing track records of delivering successful engineering, survey, and environmental consulting services. Western Research and Development (Western) specializes in municipal and transportation engineering and planning, agricultural engineering, and surveying for clients in the Cheyenne and northern Colorado market. These specialties complement and further strengthen Y2's existing civil, infrastructure, water and wastewater engineering, planning, surveying, landscape architecture, and natural resources services.

Y2 is pleased to announce that in conjunction with the acquisition of Western, another senior engineer has also joined Y2's Cheyenne office. Del McOmie, PE, has well-established connections in southeastern Wyoming. Former Director of the State of Wyoming Construction Department, McOmie will provide project management and quality control services.

With this acquisition, Y2 grows to over 45 Wyoming-based staff currently serving projects in Wyoming, Nebraska, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Oregon, North Dakota, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Arizona, and Florida. Y2 looks forward to continuing to provide quality services and sharing the dedication of its employees in our project areas.

Link to original press release:

<https://y2consultants.com/y2-consultants-acquires-cheyenne-based-western-research-development-ltd/>