

Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc. Acquires Contour Environmental LLC

July 20, 2022

Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc. (“Rimkus”), a worldwide provider of engineering and technical consulting services, today announced the acquisition of Contour Environmental LLC (“Contour”), a leading environmental services company that provides a diverse range of scientific and engineering expertise for clients in the southeastern U.S. The acquisition enhances Rimkus’ growing Architectural, Engineering, and Construction Services group, strengthening its global environmental site assessment team with expertise in the areas of natural resources consulting and wetlands delineation.

“Technical expertise underpins our success, and the addition of Contour to our growing Rimkus team enhances our ability to meet increased market demands for proactive solutions in the environmental assessment area. Their customer focus mirrors that of Rimkus, making them a perfect match for our company.” said Curtis Brown, Chairman and Executive Director, Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc.

“The Contour team understands the importance of a performance-driven attitude, making them the preferred partner to complete complex projects. Like Rimkus, they are true experts in the environmental markets they serve, allowing them to help our clients to understand potential environmental risks and think outside of the box to find the most practical, cost-effective solutions to project challenges. With an unmatched expertise in the Southeast region, we look forward to what we can achieve together,” said Robert Kocher, Chief Executive Officer, Rimkus Consulting Group, Inc.

Based in Acworth, Georgia, Contour serves the specialized needs of real estate, lending, educational, governmental, and residential clients. The company offers a diverse range of scientific and engineering expertise, including natural resource consulting, environmental site assessments, wetland delineation, subsurface investigations, underground storage tank assessments, water assessments, and mitigation planning services.

“We look forward to joining the Rimkus network and the company’s remarkable team of experts to help our business achieve its full potential. Growing our passion and reaching new milestones, such as this merging of teams, remains paramount to the continued success of our company and valued clients,” said Dana A. Spotts, President of Contour Environmental.

In addition to the acquisition of Contour, Rimkus has completed 13 acquisitions worldwide since 2020, growing their network to more than 1,400 employees in more than 110 offices globally. Through the acquisitions, Rimkus has enhanced its existing practice areas to stay ahead of its global customers’ requirements and invested in solutions that enable the company to remain a leader.
