

QE2 Joins the Fisher Arnold Family in Knoxville, TN

October 3, 2022

Fisher Arnold is excited to announce that we have united our company with QE2 (Quantum Environmental & Engineering Services, LLC), a leading environmental and civil engineering firm in Knoxville, TN. We have enjoyed a long, fruitful partnership with QE2 that spans more than two decades, working jointly on a wide variety of environmental and civil engineering projects. As colleagues and friends, we have long valued their professionalism, expertise, and reputation, and are pleased to welcome them as official members of the growing Fisher Arnold family.

Both Fisher Arnold and QE2 are delighted to be joining forces, combining our experience and depth of knowledge that will allow us to better achieve the goals of our shared mission. We are looking forward to new opportunities to continue to provide high-quality, innovative service our clients, team members and communities.
