

Alliance Engineering & Planning LLC joins LJA Engineering, Inc.

November 8, 2022

LJA Engineering, Inc. (LJA) has further expanded in Georgia and Alabama with the addition of Alliance Engineering & Planning LLC (AEP), a multi-disciplinary engineering and surveying firm headquartered in Alpharetta, Georgia with satellite offices in Buford, Georgia and Huntsville, Alabama.

Led by David Anderson – President, Tyler Marchman – Vice President, and Mitch Peevy – Vice President, AEP provides its clients an alliance of diverse expertise in civil engineering, land planning, land surveying, and landscape architecture.

“Alliance Engineering & Planning is a young, innovative, and fast-growing land development and surveying firm that has made a significant impact in the communities it serves in the greater Atlanta region,” said James Ross, President and CEO of LJA. “The addition of David, Tyler, Mitch, and the AEP team will strengthen LJA’s presence in the state, while adding the local expertise and leadership we’ll need to fuel LJA’s continued growth across the South. We are excited to welcome the AEP team into the LJA family.”

David Anderson added, “We’re thrilled with the opportunity to join LJA. We’ve worked hard to build a great team and take care of our clients, which has led to our rapid success and growth. At the same time, we’ve realized that we can be even more successful with the right strategic partner who shares our culture and goals. LJA is that partner – they know what it takes to build a successful business, their investment strategy complements our growth objectives, and their easy-going, family atmosphere matches our own. Moreover, as a 100%-employee-owned firm, LJA gives us the platform to provide meaningful ownership to all our staff and a stake in our future success.”

LJA’s and Alliance Engineering & Planning’s combined strength brings new services and capabilities to AEP’s core offerings of engineering, surveying, land planning, landscape architecture, LiDAR drone technology, and government relations. AEP’s north-Atlanta and Huntsville locations will expand LJA’s presence to 43 total offices serving markets across the south from Arizona to South Carolina.
