

Big News: Pace® Analytical Services and Alpha Analytical Team Up!

March 7, 2023

We are excited to announce that Pace® Analytical Services has acquired Alpha Analytical. This acquisition strengthens our ability to honor our commitments to you and continue to exceed your expectations.

Through the acquisition, Pace® adds both of Alpha Analytical's full-service environmental laboratories and our 9 service centers. Overall, Pace® now offers over 40 locations in the region to support your testing of air, water, soil, and more.

Like Alpha Analytical, Pace® has been providing environmental and analytical laboratory testing services for decades. "We have had a friendly relationship with Pace® for over ten years," said Mark Woelfel, President of Alpha Analytical. "Because of our mutual respect, shared values, and focus on sustainability, Pace® was the only company we considered for this transaction."

We will continue serve you with our enhanced capacity and capabilities as we work together to protect our environment and improve the health and safety of the communities we serve.
