On May 30, 2023, Trihydro signed initial transaction documents to acquire Ridgepoint Consulting, a Sheridan, Wyoming-based civil engineering consulting company, to be effective as of July 9, 2023. The acquisition demonstrates Trihydro's ongoing commitment to the Rocky Mountain region and enhances its ability to provide infrastructure, civil engineering, and construction administration services to clients.

Ridgepoint Consulting specializes in civil engineering for public and private clients, and the team's expertise will complement and strengthen Trihydro's existing services in the region, particularly in northern Wyoming, southern Montana, and South Dakota.

With this acquisition, Ridgepoint's team will join Trihydro's Sheridan office. Ryan Christensen, Principal at Ridgepoint Consulting, stated, "There could not be a better match for our team and our clients. We are excited to join a company whose culture and dedication to its employees and community align so well with our own. We are also excited to be able to offer our current clients Trihydro's broader range of services." Chad Lynn, Principal at Ridgepoint Consulting, stated, "We look forward to continuing our civil engineering relationships with our clients, as well as expanding the services that we will be able to provide them through Trihydro's group of like-minded individuals."
