

UTRS Expands Civil/Environmental Engineering and Surveying Capabilities into Northern New Jersey through Acquisition

June 2, 2023

Universal Technical Resource Services, Inc. (UTRS), a leading provider of engineering services and information technology, today announced the acquisition of Finelli Consulting Engineers (Finelli) in Washington Township, (Warren County) New Jersey. Finelli will complement the RKR Hess division of UTRS that specializes in civil engineering, environmental engineering, surveying, and wetland services. UTRS Chief Operating Officer David Zalcmann made the announcement.

“The acquisition of Finelli continues our growth strategy by expanding our civil offerings from Eastern Pennsylvania throughout Northern New Jersey,” Zalcmann said. “There are great synergies between our RKR Hess division and the quality work Finelli has done for many years supporting municipalities and private clients alike.”

The transaction includes the purchase of substantially all the assets and retains Finelli’s staff, which will continue to operate from its current community.

“Adding these capabilities and a new office in Washington Township, NJ significantly expands our capabilities across the river and into Northern New Jersey where we’ve always seen great opportunity for our business,” said Russ Scott, Director of East Stroudsburg, PA-based RKR. “The Finelli team has amazing talent and we are thrilled for them to join the UTRS family.”
