

Boswell Engineering & Ferriero Engineering Announce Strategic Merger

September 8, 2023

Boswell Engineering is extremely pleased to announce the company has merged with Ferriero Engineering Inc., a preeminent civil engineering firm headquartered in Chester, New Jersey. The combined resources of the two firms will enable our team to optimize each company's management and technical expertise and ensure our broad and expanding client base receives the same high-quality services which they have come to expect. The integration of the Ferriero Engineering team with Boswell Engineering will take place over the next four (4) months and will allow us to effectively realize our strategic goals. With the integration of the firms, Paul Ferriero, P.E. will now serve as Boswell Engineering's Vice President of Municipal Services.

Boswell Engineering, ranked nationally among Engineering News – Record's Top Design and Top 50 Construction Management Firms, and regionally among the Top Design Firms in the New York / New Jersey Region, operates as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Italconsult USA Corporation. The firm, with the merged resources of Italconsult S.p.A., ranked 71st among ENR's Top 225 International Design Firms, has enhanced its capability to offer a comprehensive range of planning, engineering, environmental, and construction and project management services to local, regional, state and federal governmental agencies and to private sector clients throughout the northeastern United States. Since our founding in 1924, we have been client-oriented and focused on quality with a clear vision for the future.

Boswell Engineering and Italconsult USA will continue to investigate opportunities to grow both internally and through acquisitions. The addition of Ferriero Engineering will add to our seasoned staff of excellent professionals and help to accelerate our growth into the future.
