

Aegion Announces Acquisition of 11 Enviro Group

October 2, 2023

Aegion Corporation, the leading provider of infrastructure maintenance, rehabilitation and technology-enabled water solutions, today announced the acquisition of 11 Enviro Group, a provider of assessment, maintenance, and trenchless services for water and wastewater pipelines in the New York City metropolitan area. 11 Enviro Group will now operate as part of EN-TECH Infrastructure, an Aegion portfolio company based in New Jersey.

After leading EN-TECH Corp's New York City cured-in-place pipe (CIPP) operations, Christina Camali founded 11 Enviro Group in 2018 as a cleaning and closed-circuit TV (CCTV) inspection service provider. Today, 11 Enviro Group is a trusted resource for New York City and adjacent municipalities' general contractors, engineering firms, and agencies providing cleaning, video inspection, and CIPP spot repairs, among other trenchless solutions and assessments.

"11 Enviro is a trusted provider of complementary services and has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with EN-TECH Infrastructure," said Rob Tullman, President and CEO, Aegion. "Now as part of EN-TECH Infrastructure, 11 Enviro Group brings additional specialty service offerings to our operations in the Northeast."

11 Enviro Group employees and facilities will remain in place in Greenpoint, Brooklyn.

"In just five short years, 11 Enviro Group has achieved incredible success thanks to the dedication and impeccable service executed by our teams," said Christina Camali, Founder & President, 11 Enviro Group. "This new chapter with En-Tech Infrastructure means we can start our next chapter and do more for our customers and our employees."

Christina Camali plans to remain on board to ensure the transition of her teams and customers to EN-TECH infrastructure.
