

Colliers Engineering & Design Acquires J.A. Mihalik Architect, LLC

December 4, 2023

Colliers Engineering & Design, a national multi-discipline engineering, architectural, design and consulting firm, is pleased to announce it has acquired all operating assets of J.A. Mihalik Architect, LLC (JAM ARCH), an architectural and design firm based in Fairfield, NJ.

“This strategic step allows us to continue to expand our architectural services nationwide,” said Kevin L. Haney, PE, President & CEO, Colliers Engineering & Design. “By adding JAM ARCH’s professionals to our team, we have strengthened our full-service offerings, particularly in the Texas and Florida markets.”

“We are thrilled to join Colliers Engineering & Design and be able to leverage our unique experience in designing child care and educational spaces,” said Justin A. Mihalik, AIA, NCARB, Principal, JAM ARCH. “This partnership enables us to offer clients more expansive national coverage as well as a holistic approach to design services incorporating site and civil services.” .
