

ALL4 Expands into Pacific Northwest with Whatcom Environmental Acquisition

January 8, 2024

ALL4 has acquired Whatcom Environmental, located in Bellingham, WA. Whatcom Environmental has provided compliance and remediation services to the regulated industry for over 25 years. Established in 2002, ALL4 is a consulting company with 250 professionals focused on environmental, health, safety, sustainability, and digital solutions.

ALL4 LLC (ALL4), a leader in environmental, health, safety, sustainability, and digital consulting services, is excited to announce the acquisition of Whatcom Environmental Services Inc., located in Bellingham, WA. Whatcom Environmental has provided regulatory compliance and remediation solutions in air, water, waste, and soil to clients in the Pacific Northwest for over 25 years. The team is a mix of consultants and field technicians, who collectively provide compliance, sampling, and analytical services to clients.

"The addition of a premium consulting team in Washington is another step in ALL4's growth and a great addition to our award-winning culture. We are looking forward to connecting our new Pacific Northwest clients with additional technical expertise and bringing our regulatory knowledge to a geographic region with a quickly evolving regulatory and policy landscape," said Colin McCall, Chief Technical Officer of ALL4.

Eric Libolt, Vice President of Whatcom Environmental, echoes the mutual goals of the integration of teams, "This is a great opportunity for us to supplement the services offered to our clients and to be a local partner and resource to ALL4's clientele."

This marks ALL4's fourth acquisition and represents a significant step in ALL4's objective to provide strategic solutions to the regulated community throughout the country. ALL4's Chief Executive Officer William Straub notes, "ALL4's approach to acquisitions has been to focus on companies with technical experts in expanding markets who have long-standing and strong client relationships. We look forward to growing clients in the Pacific Northwest and broadening the depth of our EHS services with clients throughout the U.S."

The addition of Whatcom Environmental brings ALL4 to 250 professionals who serve the regulated community in a wide range of industries.
