

CGA Expands Iowa Footprint with Strategic Acquisition of ERG

January 18, 2024

In a significant move to expand its services and strengthen its presence in Central Iowa, Clapsaddle-Garber Associates, Inc. (CGA) is excited to announce the acquisition of Engineering Resource Group (ERG), effective January 1, 2024.

Established in 1996, ERG has been a steadfast provider of civil engineering and land survey services to the Des Moines area, bringing a wealth of experience and a robust client base to the CGA family.

ERG's employees and service lines are a perfect complement to CGA's. They bring a rich portfolio of expertise in land development, site plans and planning, subdivision platting, and Alta surveys, which will significantly enhance our offerings to CGA clients in central Iowa. We are thrilled to welcome their talented team onboard and look forward to expanding CGA's reach into the Des Moines metro," stated Matt Garber, P.E., P.L.S., President and CEO of CGA.

Doug Saltzgaver, P.E., President of ERG, echoed this sentiment, "Joining forces with CGA is a milestone in our journey. This merger represents a new chapter for our team, combining our local expertise with CGA's resources and reputation. We are excited about the opportunities and innovations we can bring to our clients together."
