

LJA Welcomes Lonestar Program Controls Group

March 8, 2024

LJA Engineering, Inc. is proud to announce the expansion of its Transportation group with the addition of a 20-person team of program controls and construction professionals from Lonestar Program Controls Group. This strategic move will significantly enhance LJA's capabilities and presence in the Transportation sector.

Specializing in program controls and construction services, the Lonestar team is known for its expertise in construction engineering and contract management. Their services are tailored to optimize cost, schedule, and overall project outcomes, covering essential aspects such as time, labor, materials, equipment, and utility considerations.

James Ross, CEO at LJA, commented, "Together, our combined expertise will result in us offering well-rounded services for our transportation clients and position us for continued growth and success. Please join us in extending a warm welcome to Lonestar Program Controls as we look forward to their continued accomplishments and contributions to LJA."
