

DCCM Acquires Peoples & Quigley

August 16, 2024

DCCM, a national provider of design, consulting, and program & construction management services, and a portfolio company of Miami, Florida based White Wolf Capital Group, is pleased to announce the acquisition of Peoples & Quigley, Inc., a civil engineering firm specializing in water resources including dams and embankments engineering, potable water, and wastewater solutions with a well-established presence in Georgia.

Peoples & Quigley has built a reputation for delivering high-quality engineering services to public and private sector clients, focusing on sustainable water resources and water/wastewater management. With offices in Atlanta, Cartersville, and Athens, Georgia, the firm has been at the forefront of innovative water solutions for almost 50 years.

“We’re excited to join forces with DCCM,” said Christopher Quigley, PE, Chief Executive Officer of Peoples & Quigley. “This partnership allows us to expand our capabilities and better serve our clients. By combining our strengths with DCCM’s resources, we’re looking forward to enhancing the services we provide and continuing our commitment to quality engineering solutions.”

“Bringing Peoples & Quigley on board is a great step for DCCM,” said James F. (Jim) Thompson, PE, DBIA, Chairman & CEO of DCCM. “Their expertise in water engineering will significantly enhance our service offerings in our Georgia markets as well as contributing to our national depth of expertise. We’re excited about what this partnership means for our clients and employees.”

Blake Conner, Managing Director of White Wolf, added “We’re proud to partner with Chris and the entire Peoples & Quigley team. The Company’s successful track record and loyal customer base is a testament to its growing market position throughout Georgia.”
