

ARM Group LLC Announces Acquisition of Taylor GeoServices (TGS)

September 03, 2024

ARM Group LLC (ARM Group), a leader in engineering and environmental consulting, is proud to announce the acquisition of Taylor GeoServices (TGS), a renowned provider of environmental and geological consulting services. This strategic acquisition enhances ARM Group's service offerings and expands its reach within the Pennsylvania and Mid-Atlantic regions.

TGS brings a wealth of expertise in various areas, including hydrogeology, environmental site assessments, soil and groundwater remediation, landfill services, public water supply, water resource studies, land planning assistance, GIS, geothermal, stormwater management, and mapping services.

The acquisition aligns with ARM Group's vision to provide comprehensive, innovative solutions to its clients. TGS's corporate office in Newtown Square, PA will now operate under the ARM Group umbrella.

Dan Fellon, P.E., President of ARM Group, expressed his enthusiasm about the acquisition, stating, "We are excited to welcome Taylor GeoServices to the ARM Group team. Their culture and ownership mentality align perfectly with ARM's values, complementing our existing capabilities and enhancing our ability to serve our clients while driving continued success in the industry."

TGS's staff will continue to provide services under ARM Group. The focus on maintaining strong client relationships and delivering superior results remains a top priority.
