OHM Advisors Acquires THY Inc.

Natick, MA (November 14, 2024) – OHM Advisors, a leading architecture, engineering, and planning firm, acquired THY Inc., a land surveying and civil engineering firm based in Memphis. This strategic move represents a significant investment in the continued growth of OHM Advisors in the southeast.

“There is a shared focus and passion between OHM Advisors and THY when it comes to the public sector and opportunities to expand and enhance infrastructure offerings,” said Jon Kramer, president of OHM Advisors. “This acquisition strengthens OHM Advisors' presence in Tennessee, which already includes offices in Nashville, Knoxville and Sevierville along with a new location in Clarksville to enhance the firm’s survey capabilities. With the addition of THY, OHM Advisors is able to expand its footprint into Memphis, further scaling our operations across the state. We look forward to leveraging THY’s expertise, strong relationships and technical capabilities to meet our mission of advancing communities.”

Founded in 1993, THY Inc. provides land surveying, site development, and transportation infrastructure to public and private clients. The firm prides itself on forward and strategic thinking in order to stay relevant in a complex technological field.
