

Conzor Acquires Park Engineering

February 20, 2025

Conzor Holdings LLC (“Conzor”), a leading North American infrastructure engineering and consulting firm, today announced the acquisition of Park Engineering (Park), a prominent program and construction management (PM/CM) firm serving California public agencies. Park provides PM/CM services for roadway, bridge, water and wastewater line, and other infrastructure improvement projects.

“Park’s expertise and established relationships align perfectly with our vision for strategic growth,” said Chris Rayasam, President and Chief Executive Officer of Consor. “Our firms provide complementary PM/CM services, creating a seamless regional footprint and expanding on our existing resources.”

“Joining forces with Consor is a natural next step for Park,” said Jaemin Park, President and Founder of Park. “We have been tracking the news of Consor’s growing Bay Area PM/CM practice for years and became increasingly confident that joining this team would help us achieve our goals. Our long-standing relationships and the trust we’ve earned as our clients’ go-to consultants have been central to our success, and that’s true for both Consor and Park. Consor’s resources and like-minded focus on serving communities will allow us to scale up while maintaining our proven client-first approach. I’m thrilled about the possibilities this partnership brings for both our team and our clients.”
