

Metiri Group purchases Suburban Laboratories

February 28, 2020

Suburban Laboratories becomes Metiri Group's initial platform to develop a leading analytical laboratory organization.

Since 1936, Suburban Laboratories has provided analytical testing of water, soil, and other products to help protect human health and the environment. Suburban's proven process includes discovering needs, aligning expectations, initiating the project, testing the samples, and delivering data results. Current clients include residential sites, engineering firms, municipalities, treatment plants, corporate industrial clients, and many others.

Metiri Group, with laboratories in Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, and California, brings complementary analytical capabilities to support Suburban's clients. With certifications from the NELAC (National Environmental Laboratory Accreditation Conference), State and Federal agencies, Metiri Group has specialty capabilities for PFAS, TO-15, and dioxins.

The purchase of Suburban supports Metiri Group's ambition to be the first choice for environmental analytical laboratory services. Achieving this goal requires a commitment to nimble and responsive service, large scope of capabilities, and an ability to deliver top-quality results. The Suburban team joins a growing family of Metiri employees who share this goal and looks forward to demonstrating at an even larger scale to its clients.
