

Pape-Dawson Engineers, LLC Acquires Georgia-Based Eberly & Associates

January 13, 2025

Atlanta-based Eberly & Associates has joined Pape-Dawson.

Founded in 1982, Eberly & Associates provides land planning, civil engineering, and landscape architecture services in Atlanta. The firm's team members have delivered a variety of development projects for both private- and public-sector clients, garnering a strong reputation for developing sound engineering solutions with a focus on environmental awareness.

Eberly is Pape-Dawson's second acquisition in Georgia, following Maxwell-Reddick in 2024. With offices in Alpharetta and Statesboro, Maxwell-Reddick's portfolio is underscored by residential development. Eberly excels in crafting innovative designs for commercial projects. Together, they will leverage their diverse experience and combined expertise in planning, surveying, landscape architecture, and engineering to offer comprehensive solutions for our clients in the Atlanta and wider Georgia market.

"We are honored to have Eberly join the Pape-Dawson family," said Trey Dawson, President of Pape-Dawson. "This acquisition brings together two highly respected Georgia firms, allowing them to offer expanded resources and new capabilities to project teams."

"The Eberly team is excited about this new chapter and the opportunities it will provide to our clients and our employees," stated Kevin Edwards, CEO/President of Eberly & Associates. "Eberly and Pape-Dawson share a commitment to fostering environments where employees thrive, innovation is celebrated, and collaboration drives success."

"I'm thrilled to work alongside Kevin and the talented Eberly team," said Joey Maxwell, Managing Principal, Georgia at Pape-Dawson. "I look forward to the great things we will accomplish together for our employees, clients, and communities in Georgia. The future is very bright."
