

Little River Consultants has been acquired and is now part of the Resolution Group, Inc. team.

January 10, 2025

Resolution Group, Inc. (RGI), a full-service civil engineering firm, announced that it has acquired Little River Consultants, LLC, an environmental consulting firm headquartered in Seymour, Indiana. This acquisition expands RGI's service offerings and enhances its existing capabilities.

"At RGI, we are committed to innovation and delivering exceptional services to both public and private sector clients. This acquisition strengthens that commitment, allowing us to provide an even wider range of solutions," said RGI principal Dawn Replogle.

In the past five years RGI has experienced remarkable growth, with revenue increasing by an impressive 700%. This success highlights the company's ability to adapt to market demands, expand its service offerings, and recruit and retain highly skilled employees.

Rachele Baker, founder of Little River Consultants, will join RGI's leadership team as the Director of its newly established Environmental Services Group.

"We are fortunate to have acquired a firm with the history, reputation, and capabilities of Little River Consultants. We look forward to working with Rachele and her staff to deliver client projects with the quality and service they've come to expect from RGI," Replogle continued.

The acquisition aligns with RGI's core values, vision, and purpose, which emphasize collaboration, innovation, and excellence. RGI principals, David and Dawn Replogle, will continue to manage operations and support client relations.
