

Greenman-Pedersen, Inc. Acquires DesignTech, Inc.

March 03, 2025

Greenman-Pedersen, Inc. (GPI), a leading engineering and construction services firm, is pleased to announce the acquisition of DesignTech, Inc., a Maryland-based company specializing in mechanical, electrical, plumbing, and fire suppression systems design.

DesignTech, established in 2000, has built a reputation for providing quality design and progressive solutions to its clients. With a commitment to establishing and maintaining strong client relationships, DesignTech offers engineering support to ensure the success and productivity of its clients' businesses and facilities. Their expertise also complements and expands GPI's experience in the design of spaces for mission-critical operations such as data centers, communication buildings, television stations, private and government enterprises, and manufacturing facilities.

"We are excited to welcome DesignTech to the GPI family," said Patrick Kenneally, President/CEO of GPI, "DesignTech's reputation, capabilities, and client-focused approach align perfectly with GPI's culture and create some exciting opportunities to further expand our building systems practice."

GPI Executive Vice President, Lew Brode, P.E., LEED AP, who is leading the acquisition, added, "Their expertise in building systems design aligns perfectly with our mission to deliver comprehensive engineering solutions. This acquisition will allow us to better serve our clients and expand our capabilities in the Mid-Atlantic region."

"We are thrilled to join forces with GPI," said DesignTech's Tom Igo, P.E., "This partnership will provide our clients with enhanced services and resources while maintaining our commitment to quality and client satisfaction. We look forward to the opportunities this acquisition brings for our staff and clients."

DesignTech's Matt Bowers, P.E. said "We are eager to embark on this next chapter with GPI. Joining forces with a firm that shares our values and dedication to engineering excellence ensures that our clients will continue to receive the high-quality service they expect while benefiting from expanded expertise and resources."

The acquisition of DesignTech is part of GPI's ongoing strategy to broaden its service offerings and geographic reach. By joining forces with DesignTech, GPI aims to provide even greater value to its clients and continue its growth as a leader in engineering and construction services.
