HLB Lighting Design Merged with CS Design

Natick, MA (March 4, 2025) – HLB Lighting Design merged with CS Design, a lighting design firm based in Montreal, Canada. The merger supports HLB’s strategic planning efforts to expand its global footprint while providing clients with exceptional service, cutting-edge design, and a comprehensive range of lighting solutions.

The CS Design team will now operate as part of the HLB Lighting Design brand, marking a significant step in the firm’s expansion and enhancing its capacity to serve clients worldwide.

Founded in 2008, CS Design has gained recognition for its innovative and award-winning project work. With expertise spanning a wide range of sectors—from high-end residential to institutional and commercial buildings, as well as urban design and exterior illumination—CS Design has built a distinguished portfolio that aligns seamlessly with HLB’s commitment to delivering world-class lighting solutions.

“This merger is a thrilling opportunity to further our mission of positively impacting lives around the world through light,” said Carrie Hawley, Senior Principal and CEO of HLB Lighting Design. “CS Design has an exceptional track record of delivering remarkable projects, and together, we will continue to provide the most transformative client experience in the industry. We look forward to expanding our presence throughout the North American continent, and this merger represents a key step in strengthening our support of clients across Canada.”

Morrissey Goodale, a specialized management consulting and research firm exclusively serving the architecture, engineering, and environmental consulting industries, advised HLB Lighting Design in the transaction.
