

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Jenny Abaunza

Tel.: 812-369-8248

Email: jabaunza@morrisseygoodale.com

Website: www.morrisseygoodale.com

CHA Acquires FALCON Engineering Services, Inc.

Natick, MA (June 24, 2025) – CHA announced today it has acquired FALCON Engineering Services, Inc. (FALCON), a California-based engineering and construction management firm with a strong reputation for delivering high-quality, client-focused solutions across Southern California. Headquartered in Temecula, CA, FALCON brings a team of over 60 professionals with deep expertise in project management, construction management, and construction inspection.

“FALCON is a milestone addition to CHA,” said Jim Stephenson, CEO of CHA Holdings, Inc. “This acquisition aligns perfectly with our value creation strategy for growth and expansion into the western region of the U.S., building on our position as a leading national firm. Establishing a presence in Southern California with the addition of FALCON allows CHA to serve clients in one of the nation’s largest and most dynamic infrastructure-intensive markets. We see significant synergies with our two companies coming together – benefiting clients with additional expertise and deep resources while providing our combined staff with greater career growth opportunities. We are thrilled to have the FALCON team join us as our first acquisition in California, marking a significant step in our measured geographic expansion into high-growth markets.”

“Joining CHA is an exciting step forward for FALCON,” said Maha and Wael Faqih, FALCON’s founders. “Our firms share the same values and commitment to technical excellence, client service, and employee engagement and development. With strong regional knowledge, long-standing client relationships, and a proven track record in delivering complex transportation projects, our strengths will now be enhanced through CHA’s national platform and extensive technical resources.”

“The demand for project and construction management services continues to grow, particularly in the California transportation sector, and CHA is well-positioned to meet that demand and support our clients’ evolving needs,” said Phil Stevens, CHA Infrastructure Sector President. “With the increasing necessity for safe and sustainable mobility, resilient transportation systems, and smart infrastructure planning, California presents significant opportunities for growth and innovation.”

FALCON will rebrand as FALCON, A CHA Company, effective immediately. The acquisition brings CHA’s total staff to over 2,000 professionals across more than 45 offices from Canada to Florida and now into the western U.S.

Morrissey Goodale, a specialized management consulting and research firm exclusively serving the architecture, engineering, and environmental consulting industries, initiated the transaction and advised CHA.

About Morrissey Goodale:

Morrissey Goodale has helped hundreds of clients transform and grow their architecture, engineering, and environmental consulting companies into high-level performers through strategic business planning, mergers and acquisition advisory, valuation and ownership transition, market research, marketing and business development, leadership training and development, Lean Operation Strategies, organizational development and management, AI and innovation, and acquisition integration services. Morrissey Goodale’s team of M&A consultants assist throughout the M&A process, from preparing firms for a transaction to a successful integration.

Morrissey Goodale’s team of M&A consultants assist throughout the M&A process, from preparing firms for a transaction to a successful integration.

Morrissey Goodale’s extensive network of relationships with AE industry decision-makers around the globe uniquely qualifies the firm to identify the right buyers or sellers and guide AE firms through the complex merger or acquisition process, from conception to close.

